To whom it may concern,

I refer to an interview with Special Minister of State Gary Gray, published on 4 November by Australian Reseller News (ARN). The interview is available online:

http://www.arnnet.com.au/article/366860/special_minister_state_grey_about_gershon/?rid=-100

In the interview, Mr Gray refers to a report delivered to the Department by Ian Reinecke. Then-Finance Minister Lindsay Tanner confirmed in April this year that Reinecke had been commissioned to conduct a review of progress on implementing recommendations from the previous review by Sir Peter Gershon into government technology use.

Further information is available here:

This letter constitutes an application for Ian Reinecke's report to be released under the Freedom of Information Act.

It is satisfactory for the document and any correspondence regarding this application to be sent to the following email address: renai@delimiter.com.au.

Kind regards,

Renai LeMay
